Proposition 13 Leader Kelting No 'Wallflower'

By JOHN HORGAN

Les Kelting is never going to be mistaken for the neighborhood wallflower.

Kelting, 59 and the San Mateo County leader of the fight to secure passage of the Jarvis-Gann Initiative (Proposition 13) is no shrinking violet.

He comes on strong. He is usually about as subtle as a tac squad. When Kelting talks, people have little choice but to listen.

He is the bane of public officials in this county because he routinely says awful things about them and their operations. This is painful stuff for them to hear.

In the last several years, Kelting, a San Bruno insurance agent, has emerged as the county's king of government critics, a man who relishes his role as the gadfly in the bureaucratic ointment.

What drives this man? Why does he spend so many hours tilting at California's awesome fiscal windmill?

In a word, he's angry.

"This (the campaign for Proposition 13) is survival," he says as he sits behind his desk there in his small office. As he speaks with a visitor, he ruffles through an impressive mound of mail from interested citizens, mail which is daily growing in volume and literary intensity.

"There is nothing political about any of this," he continues. "I'd like to leave it now. My doctor has advised me to slow down. I'm fatigued. But I have a tiger by the tail. And I can't let go."

The Jarvis-Gann tiger has consumed much of Kelting's working and waking hours. He says he is out almost every night of the week, "from here to Modesto" on behalf of the controversial proposition.

Kelting, a graying, slim individual, has become one of the measure's most visible and verbally gifted proponents. Says he, "I'm fortunate to be articulate. Maybe that gives me a weapon that some of the other supporters don't have."

politicians and public servants where they live, on their own home turf, in city council chambers, in board meeting rooms, in hired halls, anywhere where some sort of impact can be made.

A lot of local public authorities look at Kelting only with deep loathing. They view him as a dire threat to the system as we know it. He has become their personal Luddite, a guy devoted to tossing a devious monkey wrench into government's finely tuned workings.

Kelting, however, stoutly denies that he is part of California's leafy crop of oddballs and whacks.

"I don't think I'm a wild-eyed radical running

Hearing on Hours Change

Daly City's City Council Monday set a public hearing date of May 1 to discuss limiting the late-night hours of the Mission Street Jack-In-The-Box, but beleaguered residents protested that that's not soon enough.

"Friday night was out of this world," complained David Franzosa, who lives on Price Street directly behind the fast food restaurant. "Saturday night, I had to go get a motel room to get some sleep."

Franzosa, along with other residents who live near the Jack-In-The-Box, have protested for some time that the 24-hour restaurant has caused considerable noise and litter problems.

A report prepared by Councilman Albert Teglia and City Administrative Assistant Ed Lyons recommends that the restaurant not be allowed to operate between midnight and 6 a.m., that it develop and maintain a litter pick-up program, close off its Price Street exit and maintain visible security personnel on the premises.

However, Teglia said he since has come to the opinion that the council should consider an 11 p.m. closing, rather than midnight, after looking at the earlier closing hours maintained by similar restaurants in the city.

"I would support an 11 p.m. closing," Councilman Anthony Giammona said.

City Attorney Albert Polonsky said that in order to change the closing hours, the use permit would have to be changed through a public hearing procedure. He said May 1 would be the earliest he could prepare for such a hearing.

"I would not put up with this another 24 hours," Harold Calder, a member of the Crocker Neighborhood Association, said of the Price Street residents' plight.

Mike Harrison, another Price Street area resident, said complaints first surfaced a year ago.

"This week isn't soon enough for a hearing for me," he said. "The residents have suffered enough."

However, Zach Zacharias, president of the Mission Merchants Association, said the organization is concerned about the rights of private enterprise in the Mission Street area. He said the Mission

'Miss Daly City' Entries Accepted

The Greater Daly City Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a "Miss Daly City" contest May 18 at the Franciscan Mobile Home Manor, 700 Hoffman St.

The noon fashion show luncheon will be the chamber's 24th annual pageant.

The winner will be Daly City's representative to the San Mateo County Fiesta Dream Girl Pageant and will act as official hostess at ribbon cuttings, ground-breakings and other civic affairs.

The contest is open to all girls between the ages of 17 and 25 who are residents of Daly City, Colma or Broadmoor, and never have been married.

The filing period is through April 30. Applications may be obtained through the Daly City Chamber of Commerce Office, 312-90th St. or at Jefferson, Serramonte, Thornton, Westmoor high schools.

Merchants would watch the hearing closely.

George Corey, a San Bruno attorney who represented Jack-In-The-Box at the Monday meeting, asked the council to hold off setting the public hearing for a few weeks.

He said Foodmaker, Inc., is working to correct the noise and litter problems there with more security guards and new personnel.

However, the council set the public hearing for May 1.

In other business, the council, after some discussion, withheld formal comment on a preliminary plan for a 119-unit condominium project proposed for 6.6 acres between Serravista Avenue and Interstate 280.

Councilman Victor Kyriakakis, noting that the Planning Commission will hold a public hearing Tuesday on the proposal by SKM

Properties, said the council should wait for further information provided at the hearing.

Mayor William Schumacher expressed some concerns about the proposal, including the slope stability of state highway property and possible future problems with a proposed private roadway.

The council, however, delayed discussion of the matter.

The council held an extended discussion on how to control political signs before informally concluding that there's no way to do so under state laws protecting such signs.

Councilman James J. Tucker said he is concerned that some signs for upcoming elections appear to be located on city rights-of-way.

Tucker caused a ripple of

DC Police Report: 'No Wrongdoing'

By NANCY STANCILL

An investigation of allegations of misconduct on the part of two key Daly City police officials has been concluded and the matter is closed, according to City Manager David Rowe.

Rowe said a lengthy report by Police Capt. Roger Austin has been submitted to him on the department's handling of police matters involving Lt. Thomas Culley and a relative of Assistant Police Chief Richard Sims.

"There are no findings of wrongdoing by the police department whatsoever," Rowe said of the report. "The matter is closed."

Rowe declined to release the report, stating that it is a police investigation protected by the state's Crown Act.

The City manager said he will report to the City Council "very much in summary" the findings of the investigation and his recommendation that the subject be dropped.

Austin was assigned Feb. 15 to make an independent evaluation of several police matters after several city officials had received an anonymous letter charging that the department had handled covertly a hit-and-run accident involving Cul-ley and drug charges relating to Sims' daughter.

Austin was asked to report directly to the city manager after Rowe first had asked the state attorney general's office to determine whether the city should seek outside investigation of the matter.

Special Agent Ronald Anderly of the attorney general's office, after conversations with city officials, determined that the September of the Daly City apartment of 22-year-old Karen Sims, the daughter of the assistant chief, revealed a submachine gun, the possession of which is a federal offense.

That Police Chief David Hansen, allegedly in an intoxicated condition, once was seen "waving his gun around" at a Daly City restaurant.

Rowe said no evidence could be found to substanno evidence that the lieutenant was intoxicated.

Rowe said the report noted that the decision by Hansen to allow Culley to make restitution in the matter without prosecution was reviewed by both the district attorney's office and the San Mateo County Grand Jury.

"The decision of the chief was within the realm of his discretion as to prosecution and disciplinary action," Rowe said of the Culley incident.

Culley, who was not disciplined by the chief, was taken off a press relations assignment in late February. Hansen, however, denied that the measure was a "punitive thing."

In the matter of Sims' daughter, Rowe said the report dealt exhaustively with the case, in which the woman was convicted of possession and cultivation of marijuana.

He said the report concluded that the article found during a search of the woman's apartment was a Japanese replica of a submachine gun and was deemed a "toy or non-gun" by a county weapons expert.

Rowe said that the report showed that confumatter could be adequately handled by the city.

Rowe said Austin's report, which included official documents from the police department and the San Mateo County District Attorney's Office, looked at three allegations made by the anonymous letter writer:

• That Culley, in an allegedly intoxicated condition, hit two parked cars early one morning last July and that the matter was covered up by the Police Department.

• That a search last tiate the allegation against Hansen, who also has denied that such an incident involving him ever occurred.

Rowe said Austin pointed out in the report that a former Daly City police officer, however, was involved several years ago in an incident similar to that ascribed by the letter writer to Hansen.

The city manager said the report confirmed that Culley was involved in a hit-and-run accident last July 6, but that there was

Schumacher Case Trial Date

A disposition hearing in a case involving Daly City's Mayor William J. Schumacher lasted only a few minutes Monday in Municipal Court Judge James O. Miller's courtroom.

Schumacher, a Daly City attorney charged by the San Mateo County District Attorney's Office with a misdemeanor violation of the state's Business and Professions Code, appeared briefly with his attorney, Clarence Knight of Millbrae.

Knight said Monday's hearing ended when both Schumacher and a representative of the District Attorney's office concluded there was no chance of disposing of the case without a trial.

Schumacher has pleaded not guilty to the charge, which alleges that he deceived a judge during a 1976 defense of a Brisbane man on a drunken driving charge.

The former client, Michael D. D'Achille of Brisbane, has alleged that Schumacher told him to surrender a duplicate driver's license to Judge Charles Becker after D'Achille was convicted of the charge.

Knight said the Schumacher trial has been scheduled for April 26 at 9 a.m. in the Northern Judicial District of Municipal Court.

A Bingo Ordinance

Bingo games for cash prizes will be legal in Daly City and bingo operators now technically operating outside the state gambling laws may apply for city permits within six weeks.

That's the result of a bingo ordinance approved Monday night by the Daly City City Council on first reading.

With the unanimous approval of the ordinance's first reading, the city became one of the last San Mateo County municipalities to adopt an ordinance permitting bingo for charitable organizations. A state constitutional amendment to that effect was approved in 1976.

There are at least five bingo games regularly conducted by churches or other nonprofit groups, according to Daly City officials. All are expected to apply for yearly licenses.

City Attorney Albert Polonsky said the ordinance requires bingo operators to:

• Pay a $10 license fee and show tax-exempt status.

• Limit cash prizes to $250 per game and ensure that no one outside the nonprofit organization has a financial interest in the proceedings.

• Open all games to the public and cease operations between 12 midnight and 9 a.m.

In other business, non-profit organizations were the subject again as the City Council decided, after protracted discussion, to deny the Daly City Host Lions Club's request for a fireworks license.

The council decided to grant the 13 permits allowed by Daly City's population to the clubs and organizations which had used them last summer. The fireworks stands are permitted during a period before the July 4 holiday.

Don Ciucci, representing the Host Lions Club Board of Directors, explained that the board decided to turn the permit back to the city shortly before the holiday period last year because of possible fire danger due to the drought.

He said another factor was the Lions' feeling that the fireworks sale was not in keeping with eye sight conservation, a primary club focus.

However, Ciucci said the club found it could not support its charitable projects without the sale; so, it was applying to regain the permit.

But Polonsky noted that the permit was given last year to an organization which had shared a permit with another group.

Councilman Tony Giammona said he did not believe that any of the 13 organizations which had

1 Man Killed, 1 Hurt

One man was killed and another injured in a single-vehicle collision on El Camino Real in front of Macy's warehouse in South San Francisco early Saturday morning.

Killed instantly, police said, was Robert Silvestri, 24, 2 Bradford Drive, South San Francisco.

The injured man, Peter J. Giannini, 23, 127 Duval Drive, South San Francisco, was reported in fair condition at Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco.

According to police, the two were driving a Volkswagen bus when it overturned, with the dead man pinned underneath.

Cab Driver

Robbed in DC

A San Francisco cab driver was robbed of some $40 early Tuesday morning by a passenger who pulled a gun on him on a side street off Southgate Avenue, according to Daly City police.

Chris Knight, 38, had picked up a male passenger at Seventh and Mission streets in San Francisco and had followed the passenger's directions to Daly City about 2 a.m. when the man pulled a medium-size blue steel revolver and demanded the money, police said they were told.

Jefferson District Begins Mediation

A mediator from the state Conciliation and Mediation Service Monday talked to officials of the Jefferson Union High School District and Local 1481 of the American Federation of Teachers.

It was the first day of mediation efforts by the state service since the AFT declared last week that negotiations with the district on the teachers' union's proposed 1978-79 contract had reached an impasse.

Dr. Harold Tonini, the district's deputy superintendent and chief negotiator, said mediator John Jaeger met separately Monday with district and union representatives.

Talks were scheduled to resume today, according to Tonini.

The AFT, which has asked for a 7 percent pay raise for 1978-79, has said it cannot accept a district offer of 3 percent for the upcoming year, 2 percent for 1979-80 and zero increase for the present year.

The other major union push has been for binding arbitration, which the district had previously rejected.

The union has announced its intention to take a "no contract, no work in September" vote at a scheduled May 1 meeting, if a contract is not forthcoming before then.

Police 'J Squad' Arrests

Daly City police say they may have stopped a wave of robberies and burglaries on the west side of the city after the Police Department's "J squad" made 13 arrests and recovered more than $1,000 worth of stolen property in four days last week.

The arrests of the 13 juveniles cleared eight cases and left property, including guns and jewelry, in the hands of police, according to the announcement Tuesday.

More arrests are expected, the announcement said.

The four-man J squad of Sgt. Richard Segunne and officers Fred Gualco, George Guido and Warren Keith combined what they know about local youth street gangs with what they saw on the streets last week and the squad moved in.

Property recovered included four handguns, watches and jewelry, stereo equipment and cameras, and some of the arrested youths were found to have marijuana in their possession also, police said.

Most of the crimes cleared were residential burglaries, but there were some strong-arm robberies, police added, in which

A Beep Baseball Jamboree will be April 16 at the M. Pauline Brown School in Daly City. The event is being sponsored by Blind Sports and District 4C4 Lions. The school is at 305 Eastmoor Ave.

REMODELING JOB

SPV Construction workers Salvador Rudavaca and Rick Paniza began a $42,144 remodeling job last week at the Daly City Community Service Center, 6794 Mission St. The project, to take about two months, will provide for a central reception area, additional office space, correct code deficiencies and add restroom facilities for the handicapped. Center Director Alice Gonzales said although construction work will include most areas of the building, the center will be open for business as usual.

sion occurred over the matter initially because a cursory examination of the article by two police officers led them to mistakenly believe that it was a real weapon.

The city manager said he concurs in the report's conclusion that "there was no misconduct, cover-up or improper handling of the matter" as to the case or Sims' involvement.

Rowe said Hansen, who has said he believes a relative of a police department employee is responsible for the anonymous letter, has not taken action regarding those suspicions.

The city manager said the attorney general's office has not found evidence of possible violation of the state's Crown Act, regarding a breach of the confidentiality of some police records by the anonymous person or persons.

He also said an attempt by the police department to get fingerprints as evidence against the letter writer has proved fruitless.

Rowe said the attempt to discover the identity of the letter writer will be a matter covered in a forthcoming internal memo from Austin.

laughter as he alluded to his own signs that proliferated during his successful campaign, but he said he believes the city should do something if signs are on city property.

Teglia said political signs were "a little overdone" in the last campaign.

Kyriakis, who also had numerous political signs during his re-election effort, said the question revolves more around "good taste" than public or private rights-of-way.

He said city candidates might have a "gentleman's agreement" to keep signs within tasteful bounds, but the city can't control county or state campaign signs.

Kelting

around like a nut," he says pleasantly. It is simply his opinion that government has been allowed to expand and proliferate to the point of grand excess.

What we are seeing now with Jarvis-Gann, he says, is only the beginning. He says the anti-taxation movement is going to go national very soon. "The repercussions will be nationwide," he declares. "Five other states, at least, are already working on tax reform."

Kelting is not a nay-sayer-come-lately by any means. He has paid his dues. He has been around these parts for years. A native of Connecticut, he settled in the Bay Area in 1947, after he served as a pilot in the Navy. In 1951, he and his wife (there are no Kelting children) moved to South San Francisco.

In 1956, he ran for city treasurer in that North County community and lost. "I had dreams in my head," he recalls. "I guess that was my start."

Two years later, he and his wife moved to San Bruno. There, he ran for a city council seat on three separate occasions, losing each time. Since then, he has become involved in a number of taxpayers' organizations. He says his office-seeking days are finished. He adds that his wife is apolitical and somehow tolerates his busy schedule.

It was four years ago that the North San Mateo County Taxpayers' Association was formed. Kelting was its first president. "That's when the tax revolt really began," he says.

Shortly after that, Kelting met Paul Gann, one of the co-authors of Proposition 13. Ironically, Kelting says, "I have never shaken hands with Howard Jarvis."

Personal contacts aside, Kelting is a true believer in his holy cause. He says government cannot be allowed to continue its incremental growth. He says the influence of the bureaucracy is all-pervasive and stifling. He despises what he sees in places like Sacramento and Washington, D.C. The waste of taxpayers' dollars, he claims, is staggering.

"I don't think I'm vindictive or particularly acerbic," he offers. "I just get upset with politicians. I have no sympathy for them."

He continues: "We know that spending can be reduced. We know the bureaucracy can be cut. We know that." As he speaks, Kelting gets excited as he warms to his subject. His hands tap on his desk. He leans toward his visitor. Each word from him cuts through the stale air. No one in the room can pretend he or she isn't paying attention.

"Look at the state Department of Health," he goes on. "It's a mess. So what does (State Sen. Arlen) Gregorio do? He proposes that six different departments be formed to do something about it. That's bureaucracy in action. All that will do is increase it in size and force. This is what we are trying to do something about."

(Gregorio's bill, now law, will indeed eliminate the Department of Health, along with two other state offices relating to the care of the infirm. However, the law will create only five new agencies, rather than six. Nonetheless, Kelting has made his point.)

As for Gov. Jerry Brown, Kelting merely chuckles. He is not a big fan of the governor. Says he, "The governor has continuously said he won't raise taxes. What the hell does he think has happened... He's in a dream world."

uance of the city-sponsored request to annex a Mobil Oil station at Junipero Serra Boulevard and San Pedro Road.

The continuance was requested by station operator Don Bevilacqua, after Bevilacqua learned that Mobil Oil Corp. had asked the city to withdraw the request entirely.

Bevilacqua had told the council that he still favored the annexation to Daly City and he hoped to discuss the matter further with corporation officials.

The corporation decided to withdraw the request after protest came from the Broadmoor Police Protection District, which tax revenues due to the detachment. Joseph Fillo, a Broadmoor police commissioner, told the council that "one thing we don't want is annexations."

"I'm sure you are all aware that we've had problems," Fillo said, referring to the district's struggle to reopen the independent Broadmoor Police Department. The department recently began operating after a year's lapse in services.

"We've worked very hard to get our house in order," Fillo added.

Daly City council members emphasized that the city had not seek the annexation application but merely acted on a request from a property owner.

About the governor's proposed California outer space program, Kelting would only note, "I don't mind the space program as long as he rides the satellite and leaves the budget here."

Kelting, a registered Republican himself, says backers of the Jarvis-Gann span the entire political spectrum. Last fall, Kelting and his devoted cadre of followers secured about 22,000 county signatures on a petition to get Proposition 13 on the ballot. That was accomplished, he says, without help from the media, which, he says, is a captive of the anti-Jarvis-Gann forces.

Now, the question is money. Where are the Jarvis-Gann folks going to find enough cash to combat the advertising blitz which is coming soon to try to defeat the measure?

Kelting is sure that the people, the "little guy" as he puts it, will come through later this spring.

Several weeks ago, Kelting went on a San Francisco radio talk show to spread more gospel about the proposition. In less than two weeks, he says, about $3,500 in small donations poured in to Kelting's headquarters (he uses his home and his office interchangeably).

Checks are now being sent to "Committee for Proposition 13," Box 998, San Mateo, 94403.

In the meantime, Kelting says he will proceed with his speaking engagements, his confrontations with officials, his radio and television appearances. You will probably see and hear a lot of Les Kelting in the coming weeks.

And what happens when all this is finally over? "I'm going to hop on a plane," he says. "I won't be back for a week to 10 days. No one will be able to find me."

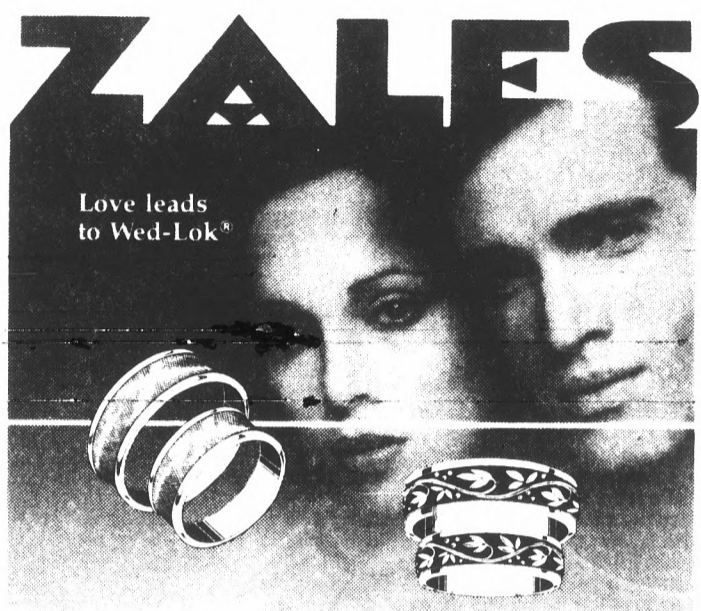

For the majority of local government types, that day can't come soon enough.

The Indian

By LUANA JEFFRIES

Jeff's VICA club (Vocational and Industrial Clubs of America) recently competed in San Jose with other high schools comprising the Coastal Region area west of Interstate 5 and south from Crescent City, to San Luis Obispo.

Of the 14 persons competing, 13 won and 12 of the 13 won gold medals. They were: For electrical trades, Angelo Calabrese and Steve Cline; extemporaneous speaking, Andy Serrano; architectural drafting, Ricardo Reyes; auto-mechanics, Steve Sylvia; for opening and closing ceremonies, Bonnie Frazier, Janice Browning, Rebecca Lopez, Mary Trevizo, Lisa Goodman, Tracy McLead and Stella Lopez.

Jefferson's VICA club is tops in California. For most schools, the average of winners is four. Winning in six of the categories, for a total of 13 awards, is a feat unequaled by a high school in California.

These winners will compete in the state finals April 21-23 at San Diego. The club is raising money for that trip.

First-place winners will go on to Birmingham, Ala. June 20-25 for the nationals.

THE FIRST VICA dance was held March 31, featuring "Common Pleasure." The dance was a success and there was even an added surprise: Band-leader Greg Escolta sang a duet with his sister Florence — a nice finale for the dance.

Ruth Corden and her dancers also put on a good show.

A dance contest was held with Herb Pruey and Lynea Michaels, Steve Murray and Cheri Childs, and Alex Santana and Terri Garon the winners.

SIXTEEN Jefferson students maintained straight "A" averages last semester.

The seniors are Lori Golden, Eileen Folan, Anne White, Maria Valavanis. Juniors are Ralph Gowen and Steve McBee. Sophomores are Amner Summorton, Marissa Zito, Enrico Catris, Noel Enriquez, Sandra Fanucchi, Rizal Villareal. The freshmen are Luana Jeffries, Rosie Tejada, Ruby Chow, Karen Wong.

Following is the membership list of the California Scholarship Federation for spring 1978:

Seniors — Chris Alhambra, Glenn Dean, Gilbert Dean, Lorraine Golden, Julie Lari, Maris Valavanis, Anne White, Kenny Wong.

Juniors — Alicia Brodzin, Ralph Gowen, Sharon Gowen, Joseph Grambow, Estelle Hatchett, Sharon Hartje, Diana Klassen, Jean Lee, Linda Lee, Lydia Lee, Steven McBee.

Sophomores — John Cosmides, Sandra Fanucchi, Daniela Franch, Donald Gonzales, Bernadett Hayward, Celesta Loyola, Marilou Sana, Amber Sumorton, Rizal Villareal.

Freshmen — Ruby Chow, Luana Jeffries, Imma Sumorton, Rosie Tejada, Karen Wong.

THE GOOD of Fifties were re-lived March 31, when "Fifties Day" was proclaimed. The yearly event encourages students to dress in the styles of the rock n' roll era.

Many girls wore either skirts or over-sized shirts accompanied by rolled-up jeans. A few of the boys dressed for the occasion, a particular group standing out. They were called "The Dukes," and wore white T-shirts, snug jeans, slick hair and armed themselves with combs.

At the Fifties rally, the pep staff rock and rolled to symbolic songs of that decade. ("Rock Around the Clock," "At the Hop,").

Linda Clemons, a petite English and drama teacher, dominated the hoola-hoop contest. One teacher (who shall remain nameless because he knows who he is!) had PROBLEMS getting his "hoola" hooping, which goes to show that teachers are only human! Invited to the floor, students danced to the riveting sounds of "Common Pleasure," as the rally was concluded.

The Regent

By JULIE SMITH

Student Body elections have been changed from April 14 to April 18. The reason is because April 14 is the last day of the third quarter and many teachers are giving tests and don't want their class to be interrupted. The Executive Board extends its apologies to the candidates for the extension of election day and wishes all the best of luck.

STUDENTS who are ill or know they will be absent from school for personal reasons are asked to have their parents phone the school that morning. The school switchboard is open at 7 a.m. to receive calls. This will eliminate the attendance office calling home.

Serramonte's spring musical is going to be "Peter Pan." Tickets are now on sale for this musical. The May 18 matinee is $2, May 19, 20 and 21, $2.50. All seats are reserved. You can purchase tickets at the theater, at the cashier's office or from Debbie Draven or Lou Silberman.

The Executive Board will present a very special assembly April 20 at 1:30 p.m. in the gym. Jeffrey Hanson, known as Mr. Escape, is an escape artist. He has been on television in the past and hopes to have a show next year. He has performed all of the great Houdini's tricks and will bring his television and night club show to Serramonte.

THE GIRLS badminton team is under way. The team looks strong this year with many returning players. The girls have a new coach this year, Mr. Harrich, a science teacher. The girls appreciate his volunteering to coach since there was no PE teacher available. The returning players are Kathy Gonzalo, Kris Mattheis, Loretta McNeil, Shelly Morris, Julie Smith, Carol Vagas and Laurie Wong.

The newcomers are Karen Bourdon, Michele Daly, Joan Hawkins, Bea Karavos, Carol Hall, Euelgna Oliva, Veronica Piroto, Diane Rubin, Lynn Vannuechi, Diane Wight, Linda Wong and Linda Young.

Stroke Victim Meet in D.C.

Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City will sponsor a meeting for stroke victims, their friends, families and for members of the helping professions April 11. Susan Andersen, occupational therapist, will speak on self-care assistive devices and techniques for use after stroke.

The meeting is at 7 p.m. in the hospital cafeteria. There is no charge. For more information, contact Mary McCoy at 992-4000, ext. 160.

JEFFERSON'S VICA WINNERS

Herbert Pruey, Lynea Michaels were Jefferson dance contest winners.

Ramblings

By STEVE KAUFMAN

Westmoor High School students got a morning to sleep in last Wednesday as another teacher workshop was held. School did not convene until 10 a.m., although teachers arrived at normal time. Hope the workshop went well.

The annual Senior Rams was distributed to all seniors who attend Westmoor. This booklet contains important dates and information seniors find very useful. Anyone who did not receive a copy should pick up one in the rack in the counselor's hall.

ANOTHER lunchtime movie was shown in the Little Theater fourth and fifth periods April 4-6. "Abbott and Costello Meet the Mummy" played along with a short feature each day. Included in the "shorts" was the famous "Who's on First" routine. Many thanks to Mrs. Janet Schwimmer, who arranges all the lunchtime movies for Westmoor. Keep up the good work!

Westmoor is having another car show. Any student who has his or her own car or motorcycle and wishes to enter it can do so. Signups are being taken in the Auto Shop during both lunch periods and before school. Last year's Car Show was fantastic. Many cars were parked on the lawn by the parking lot and hundreds of students came by during lunch to ask questions to the owners and review the autos. Remember, anyone with a car or motorcycle, whether it's yours or your parents, can enter the contest. Best of luck to all entrants.

A COUNTRY-WESTERN RALLY is coming April 21 in the main gym at 2 p.m. The Rally Committee, headed by Vikke Johnson, has done a great job with the rallies this year. Good luck. This upcoming one should be a lot of fun. A "Tennis Mania" meeting was advertised at Westmoor. Any girls with an interest in tennis attended a meeting at the Margate tennis courts April 3. There also was a chance for girls to improve their game and compete through league, team and ladder play. Good luck to all girls who entered.

Participants in the Close-Up program are selling candy to help finance the cost of the trip. Please support the program by purchasing candy from them.

CONGRATULATIONS to the journalism class for publishing yet another famous copy of the school newspaper "The Rampage." The issue came out April 7 and was distributed to students throughout the school first period. The fearless group of dedicated journalists, headed by Jerry Littrell, are doing a great job. Keep it up!

Many of Westmoor's clubs had meetings. Hermanos Latinos, Polynesian Club, Filipino Club, Youth Elderly Service Club, Executive Board and Student Congress all convened.

An invitation has been extended to senior girls who attend Westmoor. UC Berkeley is having a Panhellenic Day to explain sororities there. The event will be May 13 at noon. Anyone interested can get full details and signups in the counselor's hall.

THE SOPHOMORE class sold hockey tickets to a Shamrocks game almost until the last minute, ceasing sales March 31. The game was scheduled for April 4 and I hope all who went had a good time.

The Energies Class at Westmoor went to PG&E March 31 to tour the facilities. Hope they learned some interesting things.

Students who recently attended the Student Congress meetings reported to their third-period classes to inform the students of what went on during the meeting. This is an effective way of letting students know about events coming up and to keep them posted of the latest

Xi Lambda Sigmas Meet

President Betty Young of South San Francisco will entertain the members of Xi Lambda Sigma Exemplar chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at their next regular meeting April 17 at 8 p.m. The cultural program "David Ben-Gurion, Part II" will be presented by Yolanda Deaton of Daly City.

Chamber Sets Awards

The Greater Daly City Chamber of Commerce will present its annual outstanding student awards April 20, according to the Chamber's student awards committee chairman Ed King, Sr.

One student is to be selected from each school: Jefferson High School, Serramonte High School, Thornton High School and Westmoor High School.

The criteria the committee will use in choosing these outstanding students will consider academic achievement and over-all contributions made by the student to his/her own school. The determination of the winners is left in the hands of the Jefferson Union High School District. The Chamber of Commerce, through the generosity of the Bank of America-Colma Branch, First National Bank of Daly City-Main Branch, Toto's Restaurant and the Westlake French Cleaners, will present a $100 United States Savings Bond to each outstanding student.

In addition to the above four winners the Chamber of Commerce will give the three runnersup within each school a Certificate of Achievement, to be presented to them by their school administrators within their school.

The outstanding students and their parents will be honored at a noon luncheon April 20 at Bianchini's Restaurant, 35 Skyline Plaza, Daly City.

Acting as master of ceremonies for the day will be Frank Pacelli, assisted by Dr. Floyd Gonella, superintendent of the Jefferson Union High School District.

D.C. Man Trained

George Yen, of Daly City, recently returned from Washington, D.C. where he attended the Advanced Training Institute for business counselors. The Institute was conducted by General Business Services, Inc.

Yen, who is the GBS field director for San Francisco, said that the Institute courses included financial management, business counseling, and taxation.

Finocchio Provides Fascinating Shows

FINOCCHIO'S in San Francisco is a must if you're entertaining guests or business associates for a night on the town. During the many years in business, Finocchio's by-word has been high quality and talented entertainment. Master of ceremonies CARROLL WALLACE graciously introduces the acts; the EVE-ETTES entrance you with saucy routines and beautiful gowns, KENY STEWART and his life-sized dummy are an exceptional ventriloquist act, and wacky red-head JACKIE PHILLIPS is back at Finocchio's putting audiences in hysterics. These and all the other entertainers provide fascinating entertainment in four shows nightly, except Mondays and Thursdays. Well illuminated free parking is one of the many features of SCOTTY CAMPBELL'S in Redwood City, and the huge lot is just a few steps from the entrance. Many items on the menu at ROMANO'S Italian and seafood restaurant, Rockaway Beach, are served both a la carte and as full dinners. As an example, Veal Scaloppini with Fresh Mushrooms or Veal Parmigiana may be ordered with soup, salad, choice of fries, spaghetti or ravioli, French bread, and ice cream. When served a la carte, the entrees include choice of fries or spaghetti. And the portions are generous, says ENRICO ROMANO, who never skimps on quality or quantity.

The menu changes daily at NEW SAN REMO in San Francisco's North Beach, but the price is always the same: $7.95 for a dinner that includes home-made soup, green salad, fresh pasta, choice of four entrees, beverage and dessert. Family-style dining at its best. PHIL LEHR'S STEAKERY, on the lower level of the San Francisco Hilton Tower, is one of the few fine San Francisco restaurants serving dinners 'til midnight seven days a week. It's a favorite late-evening gathering spot for show biz celebrities and theatergoers. Poached Filet of Sole Veronique (sole is poached in white wine and topped with seedless grapes) and Eggplant a la Captain Charles are often among the dinner specials served at CAPTAIN CHARLES restaurant in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica. Business continues to be brisk at BAYHILL LOUNGE, San Bruno. Owner MEL CICERO says THE TRI SOUNDS can play a complete evening of dance tunes without repeating a single one. And that takes conscientious rehearsing. BOB McLANE, owner of YOLANDA'S restaurant, South San Francisco, is having fresh live lobster flown in from Maine for his customers to order in the dining room or to cook at home. Fresh New England scallops and clams are also flown in. Tonight's the night to try it.

The J. D. FOUR featuring JIM DUVAL, a popular Bay Area group with a vast following of fans, opened Tuesday night at PEABODY'S, Burlingame Plaza, for a two-week stint. After the short engagement at Peabody's, which the group calls their "turf away from home," it's rumored they will head for Alaska. There's piano entertainment five nights a week at BEARDSLEY'S in Burlingame. Playing the piano renditions on Monday and Wednesday nights is bonnie BOBIE STAHL. BILL MCKENNA takes over on Friday and Saturday evenings. Serving lunch five days a week, dinner, nightly. Suggest you clip the RODEWAY INN'S "2 for 1" coupon, which is appearing in today's "Bright Lights," and treat a friend to one of the dinner selections. Buy one dinner and receive the second one (the lower priced meal) without cost. The offer is good every Friday, Saturday and Sunday through April.

Came Con Chile Colorado is one of several "Especialidades de La Casa" at LA PINATA in downtown Burlingame. This Mexican stew, as it is considered, includes chunks of tender sirloin cooked in the chef's special red chili sauce. Now there is more reason than ever to dine among the flowers and trees at LEHR'S GREENHOUSE Garden Restaurant in San Francisco. Dinner patrons get special half-price tickets to the hit musical comedy stage revue, "Pastiche," playing Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings in the adjoining Lehr's Cabaret. Internationally renowned stage star Jack Aranson and the cast of "Dear Daddy" held a gala champagne reception at ROSEBUD'S ENGLISH PUB on San Francisco's Geary Street "Theater Row" following their performance at the nearby Alcazar Theater. If your taste is for something richer than ice cream, spumone or cheese cake, which are dessert features at VINCE'S Italian and Seafood restaurant, the chef will whip up a frothy zabaglione, a delicious Italian wine custard (minimum for two).

Shots End High-Speed Chase

A 100-mile-an-hour chase which began in Brisbane early Saturday morning ended some 18 miles south in San Carlos when a police sergeant shot two bullets into a rear tire of a fleeing auto, police report.

South of Millbrae Avenue, the officers managed to box in the vehicle, but the driver again escaped, going down the shoulder.

The officers finally managed to box him in, and even though they stopped the car, the driver kept the accelerator on the floorboard, spinning the rear wheels.

Future Of Coast On Line

The future of the San Mateo County Coastside beaches will be discussed in two public workshops next week, led by a planning team from the California Department of Parks and Recreation.

At one time, according to officers, 10 patrol cars were involved in the pursuit. Officers radioed they had the vehicle, reportedly stolen, "boxed in" three times before the chase ended, but the driver managed to escape each time by ramming police cars out of the way.

In Burlingame, the car rammed the side of Durson's patrol vehicle.

By this time, the driver was winding through the light morning traffic by going from the shoulder of the freeway to the center divider and back again.

"The future of the San Mateo Coast beaches is at stake," declared project manager George Rackelmann in discussing the workshops. "We are seeking public advice about the eight state beaches in San Mateo County."

A Brisbane police sergeant was injured during the chase and a sheriff's deputy who helped capture the driver was hurt a short time after the pursuit ended when an auto hit his patrol car parked on the shoulder of Bayshore Freeway north of Holly Avenue in San Carlos. The driver of the stolen car also was injured, Brisbane police-man Timothy J. Guiney said.

In San Mateo, the stolen car again as the officers attempted once more to box it in.

Durson managed to pull alongside the car and waited until there was no traffic nearby. He then fired two shots from his car traveling 90 miles an hour. Both bullets hit the right rear tire of the other

The beaches include a total of 18½ miles of ocean frontage. Presently, they provide 50 camp units, 81 picnic units and more than 13 miles of riding and hiking trails.

The driver was identified by police as George W. Hendricks, 18, of 28 Visitation Ave., Apt. 10, Brisbane.

By this time, the driver was winding through the light morning traffic by going from the shoulder of the freeway to the center divider and back again.

Hendricks, who was sitting in the patrol car, was treated at Chope Community Hospital for knee injuries. He later was booked at the county jail on three counts of assault with a deadly weapon on a police officer, car theft and being an escapee from Camp Glenwood.

Coastal recreation needs, social and environmental values of the beaches, protection of ecosystems and wildlife, and the kind of facilities needed by those who use the beaches are seen as topics.

At 12:20 a.m., Paula Scapichio of 400 Visitation Ave. reported her Triumph sports roadster was stolen from in front of her home.

Taste the beef that meets the standards of the Cordon Bleu.

Le Cordon Bleu of Paris, France.

This is the cooking school that trains the world's best chefs. Well-known since the turn of the century, its reputation has made the name Cordon Bleu synonymous with the highest standards of French cooking. Despite a bagful of imitators, Le Cordon Bleu of Paris has helped maintain the French style of cooking as one of the major gastronomic delights of the world.

"We shall see," she said.

"But first we must put it to the test." And test it her staff did. For three days, they roasted and stewed, boiled and pan-fried. They put Lucky Bonded Beef through its paces. And when the Chef finally emerged from the kitchen, he and Mme. Broussardt had become so enthusiastic, they'd developed a dozen recipes, just for us. Recipes with the unmistakable Cordon Bleu flair.

Lucky Bonded Beef.

Our meat buyers have high standards, too. Our customers have told us in many ways how pleased they are with our beef. Our beef is even guaranteed for your satisfaction or your money back with proof of purchase. That's how much we believe in our beef. But we wondered how to tell the story to folks who hadn't tried it yet. Then our thoughts turned to Le Cordon Bleu. If they would only give us their opinion... so we went to Paris and talked to the director of the school, Mme. Broussardt, about where we might stand against her school's international standards.

This is a first!

Cordon Bleu recipes have always been a closely guarded secret. We're delighted to be chosen to pass them along to you. In fact, you'll find a new one each week at our meat counter. You don't have to purchase anything to get a recipe card. But remember that our Bonded Beef was used in creating the original recipes. Check out our prices. With Lucky's low everyday discount prices and quality that meets the standards of the Cordon Bleu, Lucky Bonded Beef is what discount is all about... and Lucky has it!

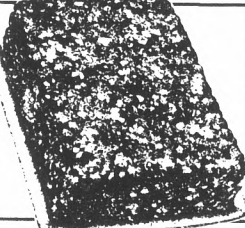

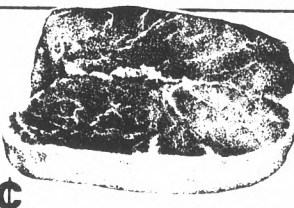

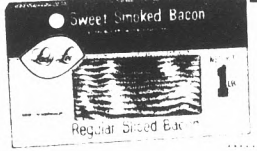

Watch for our exclusive Cordon Bleu recipe cards available next week... Wednesday, April 19th!

Prices effective Wednesday, April 12th thru Tuesday, April 18, 1978.

SSF Trims Trips

A year's moratorium on travel outside a 100-mile radius of South San Francisco was unanimously approved by the City Council last week.

The moratorium will apply to all city employees desiring to attend conferences and conventions. It does not apply to training trips, such as those utilized frequently by police officers.

However, the council will study the possibility of limiting travel even for training in an effort to determine just what an employee's time away from the job costs the city.

Councilman Emanuele Damonte, who suggested the moratorium, said that although police officers attending training sessions have those sessions paid for by the training agency, it still costs the city money because South San Francisco continues to pay the employee's salary.

"Even though we are being reimbursed," Damonte said, "we are not being reimbursed for the duty time lost."

Police Chief James Datzman, however, told Damonte, "The money spent on training police officers is well worth it. We're lucky that here in California there is such an extensive training program." Resident Jim Keegan complained to the council that such conferences and conventions are "free-loads." There is precious little training done at these meetings. That's why we are talking about cutting these out," Keegan also said that more often than not these sessions are in vacation spots. "They are never held in San Jose or Milpitas," he claimed.

In other matters, the council:

- Decided to sell surplus city property at 942 and 946 Grand Avenue and 401-403 Chestnut Ave.

- Minimum bid for 946 Grand Ave. (a five-unit apartment complex) has been set at $180,000; for 942 Grand Ave. (a four-unit apartment complex), $145,000; and for 401-403 Chestnut Ave. (a duplex), $78,000.

- Sent back to the staff for revision a proposal to set up guidelines for social services agencies supplying to South San Francisco for revenue sharing funds.

- The council told the staff it wanted to emphasize that allocation would be for seed money and that once that program is developed it should become financially independent.

- Learned that Park and Recreation Director Lyle Norton has revised plans for the Peck's Lot Park on Gardiner Avenue to bring it under the $60,000 allocated for the project.

- Accepted a bid from Munkdale Brother's, Inc., Burlingame, for $4,135 worth of landscaping on South Airport Boulevard.

- Rejected all bids for improvement of an underpass at Airport Boulevard and the Southern Pacific railroad crossing.

- The lowest bid submitted was more than $20,000 higher than the engineer's estimate. The council will again call for bids on the project.

State to Check Elms' Disease

The state agricultural department is undertaking an intensive program of checking all elms for the deadly Dutch Elm disease, according to San Mateo Park Superintendent Allan Hammer.

Anyone concerned about the condition of an elm tree is urged to contact the city park department office or the San Mateo County Agricultural Department.

Arborist Richard Marling noted San Mateo has conducted its own special sanitation pruning program with funds made available by the City Council to help save the city's 1,350 elm trees on city streets and in the public right-of-way. The total number of privately owned elms is not known.

Airport Noise: 'No Great Hopes'

By GEORGE GOLDING
Hillsborough noise opponent Anita Maraviglia and airline pilot Bill Hawkings came out of Friday's all-morning noise forum at San Francisco International Airport with much the same comments.

Nothing much has happened.

"I have here a list of questions asked a similar meeting in 1976," said Hawkings after three hours of discussing airport noise.
"Have these questions ever been answered, and why are we asking the same questions today?"

"I can't say I'm going away from this meeting with any great hopes," said Mrs. Maraviglia. She agreed that noise opponents are asking the same questions they have for years, and getting the same answers.

San Mateo County Supervisor John Ward, who called the session, and Airport Director Richard Heath said they see solid benefits from such debate.

"This turnout today is indicative of a broader interest," Ward said to the approximately 100 people assembled in the Airport Hilton's Terrace meeting room, including 20 panelists.

Heath said that although such meetings "can be awfully frustrating" in not coming up with solutions to the area's noise problems,
"I don't find them a waste of time."

"There are a lot of solutions we are approaching in various ways," Officials are made aware of public concerns, he said, which are transmitted to the airlines, and through them to the makers of airplanes which eventually will have to be made quieter.

"That will eventually solve the problem," he said.

Airline pilot Dick Deeds, representing the Airline Pilots Association, agreed that any further noise reductions will have to come from technology.

"We've gone to the limit
in making operational changes to solve noise problems," he said.

"Too often changes made for the purposes of alleviating noise deteriorate safety."

He said that low-level
turns, reductions in power,
and similar noise-abatement procedures required of pilots are highly questionable if not actually unsafe.

Particularly dangerous,
he said, is the head-on departure-landing pattern
at Los Angeles International, which some noise opponents say could be tried at San Francisco International.

Vince Mellone, chief of the Federal Aviation Administration's Bay Area
air transport terminal radar control center, said lead-on departure-takeoffs would never be permitted here.

After spending several minutes explaining the complexities of Bay Area

air traffic routing, and why it is difficult to make changes, Mellone asked everyone present to visit his radar center, and to make suggestions for changes.

Another FAA official said $450,000 of federal money is being spent in a planning study of the San Francisco airport area, to determine what changes can be made.

Dr. Walter Gilfillan, director of the planning study, said operational changes such as night curfews and crosswind and downwind takeoffs will be studied.

Trustee Favors Jarvis-Gann

A trustee of the Laguna Salada Union School District took a maverick stand Thursday when he declared strong support for the Jarvis-Gann Initiative.

Trustee John Plato said
the initiative to lower property taxes (Proposition 13) is the public's only hope of forcing the state to enact fair school financing.

He explained that one reason property tax bills in Pacifica have jumped so drastically (his rose from $1,200 to $1,800 last year) was that the Laguna Salada district gave the state $1 million more that it received in state aid in 1977-78.

"That's called 'slippage' in budget talk. We slipped $1 million," Plato said, pointing out that it was like this that created the state's current $3 billion to $4 billion surplus.

Rather than scaring local citizens by listing how much money the initiative would cause the school district to lose, Plato advocated taking an aggressive position.

"We ought to get parents and teachers behind this thing, pass it and force the state to get fair school financing," he remarked.

Plato added that closing down schools around the state might be the only way to spur the state legislators to action.

"Losing a week, a month or six months of education would be well worth the sacrifice," he said.

The other four trustees showed no enthusiasm for the controversial initiative.

Their remarks came after Superintendent James Brien told them the district is expected to lose 30.9 percent of its budget — $2.5 million — if the initiative passes in June.

Brien said he considers Jarvis-Gann to be the latest utopian plan offered in California.

"We get one every two years," he added.

He blamed Gov. Brown and the state Legislature for not delivering property tax relief sooner and for allowing a huge surplus to accumulate.

Brien offered five alternatives for coping with the effects of Jarvis-Gann, all of which he termed illegal:

- Have all Laguna Salada employees take a 40 percent pay cut.

- Dismiss all classified employees, cut management salaries by $28,000
and reduce teachers' salaries by 20 percent.

- Dismiss half of all classified employees, half of all management workers and a third of all teachers, which would result in pupil-teacher ratios of 45 to 48 pupils per teacher.

- File an unbalanced budget, which the county superintendent of schools legally could not sign.

- Close schools until a solution to funding problems is found.

Trustee Grady Hesters said Brien had made a very clever presentation, but noted, "I think we should give a more serious indication of what we would do."
He said he favored the last alternative.

Hesters added, "I regret that the proposal (Jarvis-Gann) isn't better worded because I think financing by property tax is one of the most antiquated ways of funding school districts."

Trustee Marilyn Willis proposed spelling out the effects of both Proposition 13 and Proposition 8 (the state's proposal for property tax relief) in a newsletter to all teachers and parents in the district.

Noting that he gets less fond of radical solutions to problems as he grows older, board President Rudie Tretten said he believes the board should take a stand against Jarvis-Gann. He particularly objected to the power the initiative would give 14 senators, since it requires a two-thirds vote of legislators to approve new taxes.

The board voted 4-1 to summarize pro and con
arguments for Propositions 8 and 13 in the district's newsletter. To resolve the difference of opinion on how the arguments should be presented, Tretten appointed Mrs. Willis and Plato as a subcommittee to work on the task.

Tretten, a past chairman pro tem of the board, was elected unanimously as the new board president Thursday. Trustees elected Landers chairman pro tem.

The board voted to continue to have its meetings
the first and third Thursdays of each month and set its compensation at $80 per month. Mrs. Willis pointed out that one neighboring school district pays its trustees $200 a month.

The trustees debated which of the district's schools should be nominated for School Improvement Funds under new state legislation. The staff had proposed Pacifica Manor, Westview, Sharp
Park, Fairmont and Ortega schools for the program, in that order.

But Plato said he had serious reservations about approving Westview as the second priority, since funding wouldn't be coming from the state until 1979.

Good morning, good cooks.

I hope today is the day you feel like baking cookies because I have two cookie recipes to share with you. They are as different as night and day. One is a light lemon sugar cookie and the other a rich, dark cookie, filled with candied cherries and semi-sweet chocolate pieces.

OLD FASHIONED LEMON SUGAR COOKIES

- 1 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 4 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup buttermilk
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

In large bowl, beat the one cup butter and two cups sugar until creamy. Add the egg and half-cup lemon juice; beat at medium speed until fluffy. Combine the four cups flour, one teaspoon each soda and baking powder and fourth teaspoon salt; mix well. Add to lemon mixture alternately with the fourth cup buttermilk; blend until moistened. Drop by teaspoon onto ungreased cookie sheet.

Combine the two tablespoons sugar and half-teaspoon nutmeg. Wet the bottom of a glass in water; dip in sugar nutmeg mixture. Flatten cookies slightly with sugar coated glass.

Bake in 375-degree oven 10 to 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Yields 7 to 8 dozen delicious cookies.

CHERRY CHOCOLATE DROPS

- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
- 1 1/2 squares (1 1/2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate
- 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/2 cup buttermilk
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 package (6 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- 1/2 cup candied cherries, chopped

In small saucepan over low heat, melt together the half cup butter and one and one-half squares chocolate. Beat in the one cup sugar, half cup buttermilk, one egg and one teaspoon vanilla.

Stir together the 2 1/2 cups flour, half-teaspoon baking soda and fourth-teaspoon salt. Gradually mix into chocolate mixture. Stir in the six ounces chocolate pieces and half-cup chopped candied cherries. Drop by rounded teaspoonsful onto greased cookie sheets. Bake in pre-heated 375-degree oven until done, 10 to 12 minutes. Remove from sheets to cool.

Yields about 5 dozen.

JUHSD's Ribera to Be shifted

Dr. Ernest J. Ribera, Jefferson Union High School District's assistant superintendent for education, will become the district's associate superintendent for administration and operations July 1.

The board of trustees, after an executive session Tuesday night, decided to transfer Ribera to the post originally designed for Dr.

Robert Watt, who will leave the district in June to become superintendent of the River Delta Unified School District July 1.

The associate superintendency was created when Dr. Harold Tonini, deputy superintendent, announced that he will retire June 30.

The board decided to do away with the deputy superintendent's post.

create two associate superintendent positions and a lower-paying business manager's position. The new administrative level would save the district $8,000 to $10,000 after 18 months, according to Superintendent Floyd Gonella.

Ribera will assume his new post at the same salary level, Dr. Gonella said. However, Ribera also is a candidate in the June election for San Mateo County superintendent of schools. If he is successful in his bid, the district could lose three top-level administrators in a month.

Gonella said the board also authorized the district to advertise for candidates for Ribera's former position at the Tuesday session.

He said the district hopes to fill the new business manager position by May 30.

Discussion at the Tuesday closed session also resulted in the board's action to appoint Justo Robles as district coordinator for bilingual education.

Gonella said Robles, a Serramonte High School, Daly City, teacher, will receive a salary of $19,931, which is federally funded.

Bank Reports Earnings

First National Bank of Daly City reported first quarter earnings of $109,471, or 57 cents per share, up from $94,169, or 51 cents per share, on fewer shares outstanding last year. Deposits increased over 6 1/2 percent from $34,559,600 on March 31, 1977 to $36,870,892 on March 31, 1978 while total resources increased over 7 1/4 percent from $38,767,483 to $41,576,330 during the same 12-month period. Bank President Charles K. Turner cited greater loan demands as the principal contributor to the earnings increase, with the banking system experiencing an 11 1/4 percent increase in loans. Between the reporting periods the bank has recycled 85 percent of new deposit growth back to the community in the form of new loans. "If there has been a sluggishness in the economy and a slowdown in business and consumer borrowing, it certainly hasn't been evident to us in San Mateo County," Turner added.

With the opening of the second quarter the bank begins the 15th year since its founding. Originally chartered in Daly City in 1963, the bank has grown to a six office banking system with offices in Daly City, Pacifica, South San Francisco, San Bruno and Millbrae. As San Mateo County's only home-owned independent bank First National prides itself on being the first bank in the area to offer such consumer-related alternatives as drive-up and walk-up windows, extended banking hours (52 hours per week), and low-rate new car loans.
